Chapter 2.13 of the Sacramento City Code limits the amounts that a contributor may give to a candidate for a City Council position for a primary, general or special election. Generally, a contributor other than a large political committee may not give more than $1,500 to a candidate for a City Council position for a primary, general or special election, while a large political committee may not give more than $5,000 to a candidate for City Council for a primary, general or special election. Chapter 2.13 contains certain other rules that may affect the amounts that an individual contributor may give. Please read Chapter 2.13 before making a contribution to my campaign. $1,500 is the maximum contribution allowed from an individual. A couple can donate as much as $3,000, but that requires two separate transactions, one in the name of each person. Campaign contributions are not tax deductible.
